

PR02-2006

GlobalCom Information Services goes into partnerships to offer PC-to-phone services in new growth markets

Singapore , 12 May 2006 -This signifies a milestone in the company's history as it leverages on VoIP technology to move towards regional expansion.

As a first step, Mr Muhammad Marzook has been appointed as the distributor for the Middle East , in particular in Dubai in United Arab Emirates (UAE).

Mr Marzook has had prior successes in promoting GlobalCom's other telecommunication services in Asia . Also a satisfied customer himself, Mr Marzook is very confident about the quality of GlobalCom's products and services, and expressed conviction that plans for expansion in the Middle East will be a roaring success.

"The Middle East is a very big and relatively untapped market, so there is a lot of potential for expansion. We are targeting Indian, Pakistan , Sri Lanka and Bangladesh nationals for the Middle East Market, where there is a huge population. The potential market is unbelievable. I see myself working hard on expanding our market share there for the next 5 to 7 years."

Mr David Ang, Business Manager of GlobalCom Information Services added,

"This is an exciting step the company has taken, as we start to realize our plan of regional and eventually international expansion. We plan to roll out more of these services soon, particularly PC-to-phone, and are in talks with more distributors to take our products to a wider audience."

"In the meantime of course, we will not let up and will do our best to offer more comprehensive service offerings to our current and potential customers."
